Briefly

Conferences Friday

Venice Public Schools will hold parent/teacher conference in the high school cafeteria on Friday, Nov. 1. The conference will be conducted in two sessions. The first session will be held from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. The second session will last from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Child care will be provided by the Venice High School Student Council. There will be no school for students on Friday. All parents are encouraged to attend.

Farm seminar set

Many farm families today are concerned about keeping the family farm intact after they are gone. This means making sure farming children are able to pay inheritance taxes and buy out nonfarming children. To assist farmers in achieving these goals, a free seminar has been scheduled for 6 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 7, at the Farm Bureau Auditorium, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville.

Volunteers sought

Researchers in the Division of Endocrinology and Metabolism at the Jewish Hospital of St. Louis are seeking women to participate in a research study on osteoporosis, a disease characterized by the gradual deterioration of bone mass. Volunteers for the study must be at least one year past menopause and have experienced a spinal fracture due to osteoporosis. Volunteers should not be taking female hormones. Those interested in volunteering are to call Jane Muckerman, R.N., at (314) 454-8409.

Halloween dance set

The Granite City Council of Seniors will hold its meeting and a Halloween dance Monday, Oct. 28, at the Granite City Township Hall, 2001 Delmar Ave. Bernice Mercer, president, said the doors will open at 5 p.m. and a light lunch will be served from 6 to 6:30 p.m. Dancing will be held from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., with music by the Alley Kats. Donation is $2 per person.

Inside

The playoffs are officially a reality for the Warrior football team. Granite City improved to 7-1 with a 35-0 win over Alton in the Homecoming game Friday at Memorial Stadium. Drake Marshall scored two touchdowns and intercepted two passes as the defense allowed only 88 total yards and got its second shutout of the year. Granite City hosts Belleville East in the regular-season finale Friday.

Alderman may reconsider hiring
They lied to us, alderman saysBy Bob Slate
Staff writer

Several Granite City aldermen are considering calling a special meeting to withdraw authorization to hire a new police officer. The council voted 11-3 Tuesday night to hire two new dispatchers and a police patrolman. Police Chief Don Knight, whose son is at the top of the patrolman eligibility list that expires Feb. 11, 1992, said he expects to have a new officer hired by Nov. 1.

The next City Council meeting is scheduled for Nov. 5, but 4th Ward Alderman Judy Whitaker, 3rd Ward Alderman Andy Timko and 4th Ward Alderman Dan Brown said they are investigating the possibility of calling a special meeting to reconsider the hiring authorization. Both Whitaker and Timko originally voted to authorize the hiring.

But Whitaker said Friday, "They lied to us in caucus. When I vote (on an issue), I have to believe what I'm told — vote from the information I have. But the information supplied by the Police Committee about the cost of hiring a new police officer was wrong."

"We are supposed to have a hiring freeze, and I don't know what the hell is

Brown seeks probe

Fourth Ward Alderman Dan Brown is calling for an immediate investigation into both the administration and the City Council. In a prepared statement, Brown said, "I am heartened by Alderman (Judy) Whitaker's reconsideration of the council's action of breaking the hiring freeze by adding a police officer to the city payroll."

"I believe the crux of the matter is Alderman Whitaker's statement that the council was lied to in caucus prior to the vote last Tuesday."

"This is an extremely serious allegation and I believe it requires an immediate investigation by both the administration and the City Council."

"We have to take strong measures to ensure that the information the council is given, and upon which we base some very

Burning issue —
leavesBy Bob Slate
Staff writer

Residents who attempted to navigate Granite City streets following Wednesday's downpour realize that something must be done with falling foliage.

Like so many tiny red and gold gondolas, leaves drifted along small rivers, finally ending their journey in catch basins and aggravating an already frustrating drainage problem.

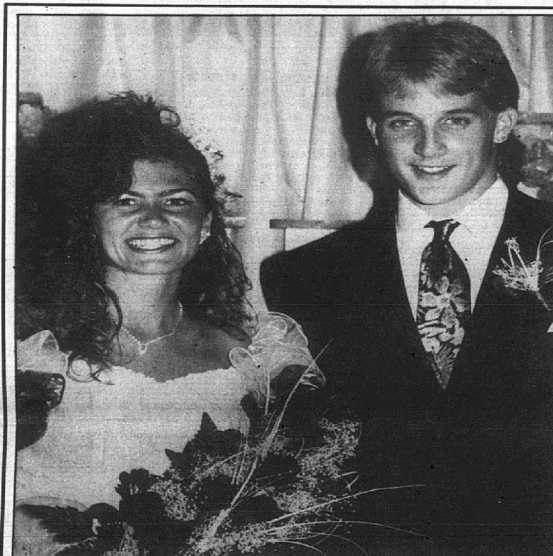

According to Street Superintendent Clayton "Jug" Harrison, the city's catch basins have not been systematically cleaned for as long as he can remember. He has more than 20 years experience on the department.

"We will get to systematically going through the city and cleaning the catch basins in November. Right now, we're trying to sweep (the leaves) up with the street sweeper," Harrison said.

In an attempt to solve the leaf problem, and at the same time avoid the controversial solution of burning, a possibility the City Council began discussing again Tuesday — the city's Sanitation Department began accepting leaves 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Fridays and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturdays.

The service is free, but residents must bring their leaves to the Sanitation office.

DeLuca pleads guilty in drug case; Lanter gets 35 years

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

Former Panama Jax owner Danny Cox of Collinsville is the sole defendant left facing trial in the "John Lanter Drug Ring" trials in East St. Louis federal court.

Dennis DeLuca, 44, of Collinsville pleaded guilty Thursday to felony counts of conspiracy to distribute marijuana and possession with intent to distribute marijuana.

DeLuca, a former bouncer at Panama Jax, was charged after law enforcement officials seized 550 marijuana plants that were growing on DeLuca's property in Calhoun County. DeLuca was also charged with selling an undercover agent a hydroponic grow system and starting marijuana plants indoors.

Cox, who faces charges of conspiracy and possession of cocaine, is scheduled to go to trial later this year.

According to Assistant U.S. Attorney Michael Quinley, DeLuca's plea carried no agreement with prosecutors.

"There was no deal," Quinley said. "He pleaded guilty because he wanted to, not because of anything we offered."

DeLuca was widely reported to have been offered the chance to have prosecutors recommend a reduced sentence in return for his cooperation in the prosecution of Cox and other cases, including the investigation into the 1990 death of businessman Frank O'Donnell.

John Lanter of Carlyle, who federal authorities said led a drug ring that sold as much as six kilograms of cocaine a week in the Metro East area, was found guilty July 10 of conspiracy to distribute cocaine and taking a gun to a drug deal. He was sentenced Thursday to 35 years

Court to hear
suit on remap

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Supreme Court will hear challenges to a Republican map for new state legislative districts.

The high court Wednesday scheduled oral arguments for Nov. 13 on a lawsuit brought by Attorney General Roland Burris.

The suit labels as unfair and unconstitutional the redistricting plan approved Oct. 4 by the Republican majority on the Legislative Redistricting Commission.

The justices also agreed to hear challenges by interest groups representing African-Americans and Hispanics.

Rep. Jim McPike, D-Alton, a Democratic member of the commission, said his party would likely propose at least 40 or 50 changes to the Republican map, but "we don't know whether they would be considered by the court."

McPike predicted that, if the GOP plan is allowed to stand, Republicans would take over the Illinois Senate with at least 34 of the 59 seats. He predicted that the House, which is now controlled 72-46 by Democrats, would be "totally

Man looks for natural parents

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

Raymond is seeking his roots. Shortly after his birth on Oct. 19, 1954, Raymond was put up for adoption by his mother, then a resident of Madison.

Raymond, who asked that his surname not be used out of courtesy to his adoptive parents and family, is seeking the location of, or information about, either or both of his natural parents.

"I've always wondered about them," he said. "But I really started looking about a year ago. I figure I'm 37 and they're getting up in age, so I'd like to get to know them before it's too late."

Raymond has managed to collect the following information through the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, which handled his adoption, and various other social and government agencies.

Raymond's natural mother was named Shirley

Jeanne Brown and she was 22 years old at the time of his birth. She had graduated from high school in 1950 and has worked in a number of places, sometimes as a bookkeeper.

Brown was described as being five feet, five inches tall with medium brown hair, blue eyes and a dark complexion.

On the birth certificate, Brown named the baby Louis Edward Brown.

Her address was listed as 608 Washington Ave., Madison. She had been born in Madison.

Raymond's natural father was 23 years old at the time of the birth and worked in construction and landscaping. Because he had a black grandparent on his mother's side, he is listed as "Negro" on the birth certificate. That is the only item listed on the certificate under father.

"I figure race is the whole reasoning behind the adoption," Raymond said.

Police log

Clinic gets bomb threat

Debbie Wiehardt, administrator for the Hope Clinic for Women, told police she received a telephone call at 11:24 a.m. Oct. 23 threatening to bomb five women's clinics in the state over the weekend.

Wiehardt said the female caller stated the Hope Clinic would be bombed, and she (the caller) wanted to warn people.

According to a police report, the call came in over the clinic's Missouri Watts line, and could have originated anywhere outside of Illinois.

Police Chief Don Knight said the department is taking the threat seriously, and implementing increased patrols in the area around the clinic.

Charged in ATM scam

Laura A. Harper, 28, of the 2200 block of Washington Avenue was arrested at 3:30 a.m. Oct. 24 on a felony warrant charging her with unlawful deposit and theft by deception.

Bond was set at $10,000. Harper is alleged to have made false deposits (which she entered in an automated teller machine, but included no cash) at Magna Bank, and then withdrawn cash from the same account based on the false deposits.

Sex assault warrants

Earl D. Abney, 48, formerly of the 2200 block of Grand Avenue, was charged with four counts of aggravated criminal sexual assault in warrants issued Wednesday. Bond was set at $10,000.

According to Capt. Kip Pomeroy, Abney is alleged to have sexually assaulted a Granite City girl four times between November 1983 and April 1990, when the girl was 4 to 10 years old.

Pomeroy said Abney is currently in the Callaway (Mo.) County jail for an alleged parole violation. Abney has two prior sex offense convictions, records show.

Arrest for cannabis

John W. Lindsey, 26, of the 3100 block of Jill Avenue, was arrested at 9:30 p.m. Oct. 22 on a misdemeanor charge of unlawful possession of cannabis.

According to a police report, Lindsey possessed approximately four grams of cannabis, and was arrested at a home in the 1800 block of Poplar Street.

Granite City

Cooling unit stolen

David L. Wilson, 47, of the 1900 block of Benton Street reported a $1,500 central air conditioning unit stolen from a vacant house in the 2400 block of Madison Avenue that he recently purchased. He said the theft occurred Oct. 15 or 16.

Car hit with ball bat

A 30-year-old Madison man and his 25-year-old wife told police their car was seriously damaged when passengers of another car took a baseball bat to it as they were driving during the evening of Oct. 21.

According to the victims, they were southbound on Nameoki Road, near Kirkpatrick Homes, in their silver 1983 Toyota Corolla at about 11 p.m. when a dark blue Buick containing five or six men pulled up next to them and one of the occupants asked, "Hey, how you doing?"

The man driving the Toyota gestured toward the men in the Buick with his hand, drawing the ire and curses of the occupants of the Buick.

When the Toyota pulled up to the intersection of Nameoki Road and East 23rd Street, one of the occupants of the Buick leaned out the window and swung the bat at the Toyota with a baseball bat.

The driver of the Toyota then ran through a red light, and the man with the bat threw it at the car, striking the rear of the vehicle.

Dents in the hood, driver's side roof and rear of the Toyota, and a broken windshield and driver's side mirror were noted in a police report.

The victims gave police a description of the suspect vehicle, its driver, and the man who wielded the ball bat.

A five-year-old son was in the back seat of the victims' car when the attack occurred.

Parked car burglarized

Dennis R. Morris, 17, of the 3000 block of Marshall Avenue reported the theft of a 1900 car

Tests indicate no drug use in Sheriff's Department

Madison County Sheriff's Department personnel are maintaining a perfect score in tests for illicit drug use.

"Everybody tested out negative" in recent tests of 25 department employees, Sheriff Bob Church said.

Church initiated the testing program a year ago after a jailer was charged and later convicted of selling cocaine.

All 118 of the department's employees, including Church, were tested last year and all tested negative. Church had said that anyone who tested positive for an illegal drug would be fired.

The continuing program features random, unannounced testing of employees from lists randomly generated by computer.

Since the lists are generated randomly, those who were tested recently cannot assume that they will be excluded in the next round of tests, Church said.

Arrested on warrant

Sammy R. Holliday, 20, of the 2000 block of Edwardsville Road was arrested at 11:38 a.m. Oct. 22 on a Granite City warrant charging him with battery. Police discovered Holliday in the 200 block of Kirkpatrick Homes.

Crash nets DUI charge

Eddie L. O'Dell Jr., 28, of the 2900 block of Buxton Avenue was arrested and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, improper lane usage and driving without insurance following an accident at Benton Street and Fehling Road at 8:35 p.m. Oct. 19.

O'Dell was released after posting $102 and his driver's license as bail.

No one was injured in the accident, according to a police report.

Arrested on 3 charges

William R. Hager II, 30, of Alton was arrested at 3:18 p.m. Oct. 19 and charged with assault, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Officers reportedly discovered Hager lying in some shrubbery next to G's Grill (formerly Curt's Drive In), 1623 Madison Ave.

When asked where he lived, he reportedly replied, "Across the street," where Granite City Steel is located. When asked to produce identification, Hager allegedly swore at an officer.

According to a police report, Hager struggled with police as they tried to handcuff him, swore at and threatened an officer while being taken to the police station, and failed to give information to police and raised a fist at an officer at the station.

A computer check revealed an Alton warrant, alleging Hager failed to appear in court on a charge of criminal trespass. Hager was lodged pending bail.

Police investigate party that turned into a brawl

Granite City police are investigating an incident in the 2600 block of Delmar Avenue, where a party turned into a brawl when several men from Madison showed up wielding baseball bats Friday night, Oct. 18.

Both Chief Don Knight and Capt. Kip Pomeroy of the Granite City Police Department said the incident is not "gang related."

Police officers were dispatched to the location at 10:30 p.m. Oct. 18.

Brian Hutson, 21, of the 3100 block of Maryville Road told an officer that several vehicles, each containing several Madison men about 20 years old, came to the house on Delmar and a large fight broke out between the new arrivals and those who were already present.

Hutson reported being hit repeatedly by a baseball bat. Another man, Danny Wilson, 21, of the 3200 block of Franklin Avenue reported hearing two shots fired.

No one reported seeing a gun, according to police reports of the incident.

Bruce Hutson, 20, of the 3100 block of Maryville Road also reported being hit by a ball bat, as did Michael E. Perkins, 21, of Collinsville.

Bobby Ferguson, of the 2200 block of Parkview Apartments, reported that the hatchback window of his mother's 1988 Chevrolet Camaro was broken during the melee.

According to Pomeroy, police have suspects and an investigation into the incident is continuing.

Tourism head's trial to begin

The trial of Ron Presson, former executive director of the Southwestern Illinois Tourism Bureau, has been scheduled for Monday.

Jury selection was scheduled to begin this week.

Presson's case had been scheduled for trial Oct. 21, but the case was assigned to Circuit Judge George Moran and Moran is already hearing a case, Assistant State's Attorney Duane Bailey said.

The case had been continued from last month after Bailey suffered a broken arm.

Presson, 42, was indicted on charges of theft of over $300 by a Madison County grand jury in August 1990.

The indictment capped an Illinois State Police investigation into financial discrepancies detected by staff members and auditors for the Highland-based regional tourism bureau, formerly headquartered in Collinsville.

Presson is accused of converting $10,000 in bureau funds to his personal use.

The new site of the Christian Science Reading room on Nameoki Road, above, and the old downtown location, at right.

Reading room moves from downtown to Nameoki Road

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

The Christian Science Reading Room, a fixture in downtown Granite City for the past four decades, has relocated to the former CMC Building at 3142 Nameoki Road.

The new location is very visible and is in a high-traffic area. It appears more visitors are stopping in," Charles Meyer, a church member, said Tuesday.

The new place is right across from Granite City High School and drivers on Nameoki Road, waiting at the traffic light at Jill Avenue, can easily see the new reading room, he said.

"Visitors have been coming in who have never been to the reading room before," Meyer said. People from the downtown area mainly used the reading room previously, he added.

There is also more parking space available, Meyer pointed out.

"We have Bibles, copies of The Christian Science Monitor newspaper, various literature, video cassettes for children and a player, and divans (seating) for those wishing to sit and listen to audio cassettes," he said.

The Christian Science Reading Room provided a quiet haven in the once-bustling downtown area, a resting point for those wanting to spend a few minutes quietly reading or thinking through a problem in a serene setting.

Marguerite Barker instituted a Children's Corner at the downtown center, where youngsters went in the summer months to sit on floor pillows and listen to her read Bible stories, Meyer said.

Room has been serving the community since 1916. This year marks its 75th anniversary in Granite City.

It was located in the Washington Theater Building, 1336 Nineteenth St., from 1951 until the theater building was demolished this summer.

When a fire destroyed the ornate lobby entrance to the Washington Theater in 1951, the Christian Science Church had the M.H. Wolfe Co. remodel the lobby at a cost of $6,335, a large sum of money at that time.

They then leased the building and moved the reading room from the church at 2560 Delmar Ave.

The theater building, designed by Louis Sullivan, who also designed the Wainwright Building in St. Louis, was regarded as a fine location at the time.

Ornate sculptured plaster decorated the interior walls and the terra cotta front was made by Joseph Winkle of the Winkle Terra Cotta Co. of St. Louis.

Winkle had won awards at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904 for his artistry in terra cotta. He was the grandfather of Norman Holsinger and Vi (Holsinger) Mueller, both formerly of Granite City.

After 40 years and many pleasant memories, the sponsors of the Christian Science Reading Room are pleased to relocate in the CMC Building, a move made possible by the Norman Holsinger family, Meyer said.

The Christian Science Church members invite everyone to visit the new location, which still provides a study room, a lending library and a sales room for Bibles and for authorized literature and books on Christian Science.

Hours of operation are from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, except on holidays.

The reading room's 75-year history started in 1916 when the first facility was opened in the Odd Fellow's Building.

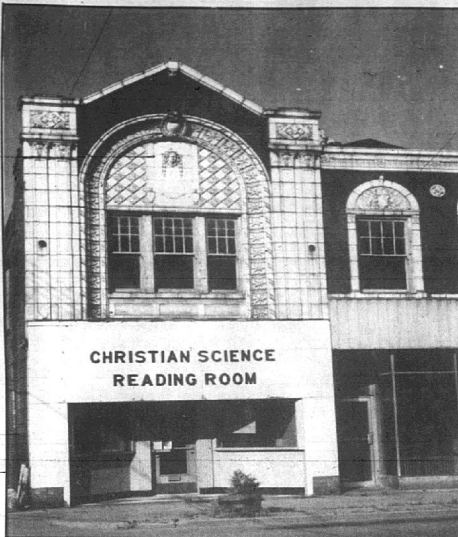

Later, it was moved to the second floor of the Fleishman Building, and then to the Morris Building and the Apple Building.

In 1931 when the Christian Science Church was constructed at 2560 Delmar Ave., the reading room was located in a lower-level room of the church.

This became too small and the need to serve the community by making it more accessible to the public prompted the members to move to the Washington Theater Building in 1951.

When the Downtown Development Committee had the Washington Theater torn down this summer to make way for city progress, the reading room was moved to its present location.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, initially started in Granite City in 1911, with members meeting in private homes and later at various buildings and the Masonic Temple.

In 1923, the local members were recognized as a church by the Mother Church in Boston and in 1931 they commissioned S.M. Wilson & Co. to build the Delmar Avenue church.

All are welcome to attend services at 10 a.m. Sunday and on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., Meyer said.

The King James Version of the Bible, and Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures are described as the dual impersonal pastors in the churches worldwide.

Children and teens are welcome to attend Sunday School in the lower level at 10 a.m. Sunday or come to the Wednesday evening service and to visit or study in the reading room, Meyer said.

Two of the questions being asked by those visiting the reading room focus on how the church started and who was its founder, Meyer said.

Mary Baker Eddy discovered Christian Science in 1866 after she had fallen on ice and was seriously injured. When medical aid could not help, she asked for her Bible and was instantaneously healed after reading it, she said.

She continued to study the Bible for three years to find out how she was healed. She wrote what she discovered in her book, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, and proved what she wrote by healing others, the church history relates.

In 1879, she and her followers voted unanimously "to organize a church designed to commemorate the words and works of our Master, Christ Jesus, which should reinstate primitive Christianity and its lost element of healing."

The church was located in Boston and named The First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Today it has more than 3,200 branch churches worldwide, of which the Granite City church is one, Meyer said.

Biking trail plan may advance

By Ed Gurney
Staff writer

A formal effort to acquire a 14.5-mile section of the old Norfolk and Western railroad for use as a biking and hiking trail could begin following a meeting in Collinsville Tuesday night.

Representatives of various governments are being invited to the meeting, which will be held at 7 p.m. at Collinsville Memorial Public Library.

The proposed path is called Schoolhouse Trail and runs from near Granite City at Illinois 203 through portions of Collinsville and Maryville to near Troy.

Several meetings on the proposed project have been held.

"We want to make sure everyone directly impacted will want to go ahead," Collinsville Area Recreation District Director Dick Dooley said. "We'll formalize our approach to the rail road."

Among the governmental units that may be involved are the Collinsville Area Recreation District, the city of Collinsville, Troy, Maryville, Granite City, Pontoon Beach, Edwardsville and Glen Carbon.

An agreement will be worked out between the governments that will be involved.

The board of the Collinsville Area Recreation District has indicated it wants to continue investigating the project.

911 team calls halt to address changes

Madison County officials are still getting static from residents who were forced to change their addresses to make way for a countywide 911 emergency phone system.

David Whipple of Alton, 911 coordinator for the county, said about 10 percent of county residents, just over 10,000 homes, had to change their addresses in order to be compatible with the 911 system.

Whipple said the deluge of requests from residents who want their addresses changed back have prompted a moratorium on address changes until the system is in place. The program is scheduled for completion by March.

"When everything's on-line we can do it on a one-to-one basis," Whipple said. "But it's kind of devastating to have to undo everything we've done so far."

Residents who lived on a rural route or had a box number received a new street address. Names of streets that were duplicated within a ZIP code were also changed to avoid con-

Changes are now in effect

Madison County residents who have received letters from the post office notifying them of new addresses as part of the 911 emergency telephone system should consider the changes effective immediately.

"After this initial change, there will not be any further changes unless there is a problem such as a conflict, ... some kind of emergency situation or new houses or buildings," said David Whipple, who heads the county's 911 program.

About 10,000 county residences have been assigned new addresses to aid dispatchers of the countywide 911 system-scheduled for completion by March.

Whipple said the changes were necessary to integrate the system. When someone calls 911, the caller's address will show up on the computer screen. This allows the operator to immediately relay it to the appropriate emergency service, if the phone number matches the address.

Whipple said some residents are still fighting changes, and many have called the County Board offices to ask their addresses be changed back.

"We get all kinds of reasons," Whipple said. "One man told moved there because I didn't want to be found."

Whipple said he received another phone call when a street address was changed from Johnson Estate to Johnson Road.

"A woman called up to complain and said she had always wanted to live on an estate and we had changed it."

Whipple said the County Board had tried to consult everyone involved when the addresses were being changed.

"Fire departments and police departments were consulted.

Resident groups were asked what they thought the name of their road should be," Whipple said.

He said addresses are being changed if they create a conflict with an emergency-response provider, but not for personal reasons. "I just don't have time for that," Whipple said.

Whipple said the process is inconvenient but necessary if the 911 system is to be successfully implemented.

Ron Hinkle, formerly of a rural route address in Edwardsville, now resides at Wildwood Drive. He had to change his drivers license, magazine subscriptions, notify all his creditors and his bank. He said he was also told he had to post his address on the front of his house.

"So I had to go out and buy some numbers," Hinkle said. "But it's no big deal. I think it's definitely worth the hassle if you're going to have 911 service."

Downtown Halloween parade Thursday night

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

It's that time of year when small ghosts and goblins peek out from terrifying masks, masquerade as alien monsters, cartoon characters and witches and chorus "trick or treat" at the front door.

Several activities are taking place this week in school classrooms and libraries, all leading up to the traditional Halloween Night parade in downtown Granite City.

Moose Lodge 272 will sponsor its community-wide parade starting at 7 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 31, at the City Hall on Niedringhaus Avenue, it was announced by Dick Mizell, Moose governor.

All area residents are invited to participate, he said.

Neighborhood trick or treating again will be restricted between the hours of 6 and 9 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 31, it was announced by Police Chiefs Don Knight of Granite City, Charles Bridick of Madison, James Bennett of Venice and Chet Ballew of Pontoon Beach.

Besides the parade, residents are urged to turn on front porch lights and yard flags Thursday during the trick-or-treating hours.

Marchers competing for cash prizes in the Moose parade should assemble by 6:45 p.m. Thursday at the City Hall, where numbers will be attached to their costumes by members of Women of the Moose Chapter 247 for easier judging.

Costumed marchers may compete for several awards to be given in three categories — scariest, funniest and most original costumes, said Frank Woods, who is Moose parade co-chairman.

Serving as judges this year are John Cionko of Cionko's Market, Jerry Cooke of Jerry's Produce and Terri Price of New Creations Hair Salon, Mizell said.

In the event of rain, costume judging will take place beneath the canopied area at Magna Bank's downtown banking center at 20th Street and Edison Avenue, Mizell said.

A police escort will precede the paraders, who will march east on Niedringhaus Avenue to State Street, south on State to 19th Street, west on 19th to Edison Avenue and north on Edison back to the City Hall.

The parade and costume judging segment are expected to last about 1½ hours, Mizell said.

Parents or a responsible young person should escort youngsters from home to the downtown parade and also accompany younger children on trick-or-treating jaunts around their own neighborhoods, the police chiefs advised.

Children are cautioned not to enter homes and to make friendly trick-or-treat calls only in their own neighborhood.

Youthful tricksters also are cautioned to use sidewalks and crosswalks and not to cut through yards and vacant lots.

Children are also cautioned not to eat any of the treats until they reach home and the Halloween loot is inspected by a parent.

Oriental medicine lures chiropractor

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

Dr. Lois Ladd rolls what appears to be a 4-inch-long piece of wire between her fingers. She drops it back into a case and then pulls out a shorter version.

"This is probably the most commonly used," Ladd says, fingering the object she calls a needle.

"Most people are terrified of hypodermic needles ... I don't like needles myself. But these aren't the same."

Ladd, of Edwardsville, chooses a spot in the fleshy area between the thumb and forefinger on her left hand and most of the metal disappears.

"The points to do this are very carefully outlined," Ladd said, the needle waving loosely in her hand.

"Now if I stuck this somewhere other than a point, there'd be pain involved. But there isn't any pain here, a fullness maybe, but no pain."

Ladd, who has had a chiropractic office in Maryville since 1989, has focused her practice on the ancient art of acupuncture.

Just one facet of Oriental medicine.

"Medicine is an art, not a science," Ladd said. "Once you add life to it (the patient), it is something beyond control."

"Ladd first learned about chiropractic medicine a decade ago. She was plagued with severe headaches after an auto accident in 1989, just months after her graduation from Edwardsville High School."

While she was working as a designer and an instructor at a St. Louis community college, a student suggested it to her.

"A student asked if I'd ever tried chiropractic and I said, 'What's that?'" Ladd recalled.

Ladd did an about-face in her career while in her mid-30s and graduated from Logan College of Chiropractic in 1989.

She interned in Sunset Hills, Mo., before joining the Maryville Chiropractic Health Center, 19 Maryville Professional Park, at Illinois Routes 159 and 162, in 1989.

"It was scary to start all over again but it was something I decided I really wanted to do," Ladd said.

Ladd treats a minority of her patients—mainly infants—with standard chiropractic care, using adjustments, manual pressure and massage.

But acupuncture is her forte. She commonly uses the technique to treat bone and joint injuries, muscle spasms, headaches and other stress-related ailments.

Ladd said that the treatment also is ideal for senior citizens who may be somewhat frail or for recovering substance abusers for whom prescription medication could do more harm than good.

"Western medicine treats symptoms," Ladd said. "Chinese medicine treats the person."

"To the Chinese, their word for body translates more as mind/body/spirit. They don't separate them."

There are 365 major acupuncture points located on the body surface.

These points are located on 14 meridians, imaginary lines that run longitudinally around the body. These "lines" carry through the body the life force that the Chinese call chi.

"Everything is based on the balance of chi energy," Ladd said. "The Chinese look at everything in terms of balance of the (chi) energy."

Most acupuncture treatment is confined between the elbow and fingertips or between the knees and toes. This goes back to the beginnings of the ancient treatment, when doctors had to treat the Chinese emperors and their relatives without looking at their faces, Ladd said.

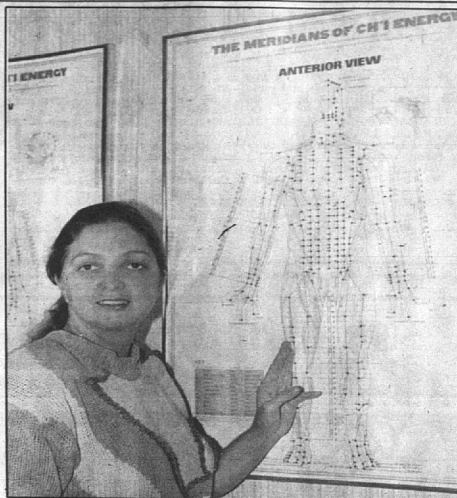

Ladd is currently studying twice a month in Chicago with Zhengang Guo, a doctor of Oriental medicine specializing in herbs, who came to the United States from China to work on chemotherapy drugs.

Ladd is also planning a trip to the University of Beijing, where she will do further study.

Ladd postponed the trip, originally set for December, until the spring. She hopes to take the exam next year to become a doctor of Oriental medicine.

She also hopes to expand her practice following the recent departure of two colleagues.

A future possibility for the office is family counseling, in the interest of treating the whole person, Ladd said.

Civic responsibility lecture

Edwardsville Alderman Richard Madison will conduct a Student Leadership Development Program module at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 29, in the Mississippi-Illinois Room of the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Madison's module is about "Civic Responsibility," one of several modules scheduled on Tuesdays during the academic year at SIUE.

Now in its fifth year, the SLDP has three components—leadership modules, which offer discussion with university faculty and officials and community leaders; an active citizenship component, which is project-oriented; and a university and community service component, which is largely service-oriented.

Those who complete two parts of the three-part program receive an SLDP transcript for presentation to potential employers.

Participants in Madison's module will be introduced to their roles as active and informed citizens. Topics for discussion will include rights and responsibilities of leaders who influence public policy decisions and governmental reform.

Child abuse reports skyrocket in state

Sexually abused children are finding a soft shoulder and open ear these days when turning to authorities for help.

That commitment has paid off, causing the number of reported assaults to increase dramatically in recent years.

Those increased reports result in improved chances for criminal conviction, officials said.

"I think there are more and more people coming forward, and I think the cases are being handled better," said Mary Lynn, child protection supervisor for the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services in Wood River.

"It takes a major commitment of time, but it pays off. Things are going better in Madison County," she said.

Statistics show the number of sex abuse crimes reported and substantiated has skyrocketed since 1982 in Madison, Jersey, Macoupin and Greene counties. Calhoun County's figures fluctuate from year to year but show an increase.

The numbers do not necessarily mean more children are being abused, but rather reflect the effectiveness of the system, Ed McManus, chief of communications for DCFPS in Chicago, said.

"We are in a great deal better position than we were 10 years ago," he said. "People in our society feel more comfortable in making those reports."

Certainly, the department is in a much better position to receive those complaints.

Two recent cases that ended in jail time for one defendant, probation for another and a guilty verdict for a third were investigated by Lynn's Wood River office in conjunction with police and the child abuse task force in the state's attorney's office.

"The task force is the catalyst; it brings it all together," Lynn said. "We will see more guilty pleas. The cases are so much stronger than they used to be, that the perpetrators recognize they can't win."

Madison County State's Attorney William Haine agreed that the task force, which investigates sexual abuse as well as physical abuse and neglect, is making a difference.

"The entire landscape is changing. We have fewer cases falling through the cracks," Haine said. "More charges are being filed, and fewer sentences are being reduced. We're more ready to try a child abuse case."

Olympic Festival OKs SIUE track proposal

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has won a head start in the race to build a $5 million track and field arena for the 1994 U.S. Olympic Festival.

The university's proposal to provide a nine-lane track surrounding a soccer field and a 5,000-seat stadium with lockers and concessions was approved Wednesday by officials of the St. Louis festival.

"We're very pleased," SIUE Vice President James Buck said. "The approval represents a substantial challenge for the area and an indication the festival will be a truly regional event."

The Olympic Festival, held each non-Olympic year, draws 4,000 athletes and coaches to competition in 37 winter and summer events. Involvement of the entire region was a key element in St. Louis' bid for the 1994 festival, tentatively set for July 1-10 that year.

"The board feels strongly that Southwestern Illinois should be a major player in the festival and wanted to give SIUE the opportunity to participate by hosting the high-profile track and field events," said Denny Bond, president and executive director of the Metropolitan St. Louis Festival Organizing Committee, which approved the project.

Financing for the new track will come from private and public sectors. A committee of supporters, including world-class runner Craig Virgin, will consider a public appeal, but money from the state legislature is an absolute necessity, Buck said.

The committee will meet soon to plan strategy, he said. "The importance of the track is the potential for the area," Buck said.

Talking on managing school, homework

The Outpatient Service area of the Kettler Center and Children with Attention Deficit Disorder of Macdonald/St. Clair will welcome Teresa White, Ph.D., as the guest speaker at their next meeting.

White, director of Professional Services for the Kettler Center, the mental health services of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, will speak Tuesday, Nov. 5, from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the President's Room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 2100 Madison Ave. in Granite City.

White will address ideas for managing children in the classroom, communication between home and school, and homework time.

Those who wish to attend the presentation are to call 798-3608. "It is estimated that attention-deficit disorder occurs in 3 to 5 percent of children," said Dr. White, who serves as a consultant to the CH.A.D.D. group.

"That adds up to two million school-aged children with the disorder. Within Madison and St. Clair counties, there may be as many as 4,000 school-aged children with the disorder."

"It is one of the most common reasons for referrals to outpatient mental health clinics."

Hiring

going on. We are spending money we don't have, and we will end up with a deficit at the end of the year," said Knight.

"Now everyone else will want to hire, too. The Street Department is short five people," Trtanj said. "The Police Department isn't hiring."

According to several aldermen, the council would be told that the additional officer would cost the city only $4,000, the difference between the cost of a new officer's salary and a grant to reimburse the city for putting a man in the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwest Illinois.

But now, aldermen say, they have learned that the actual cost to the city would be somewhere between $10,000 to $15,000, not benefits are included.

I have asked the police committee to look at the figures (presented to the council in caucus prior to the vote), Knight said. The Police Committee told me the figures came from Don Knight," Whitaker said.

Knight told a reporter after the Oct. 22 meeting that the $4,000 figure was not his, but he was not going to argue about the way the proposal was presented to the council.

Alderman Tom Candler, chairman of the Police Committee, said Friday, "There was also a lot of intention whatsoever to mislead anyone."

"In fact, the chief brought it to the council's attention in caucus that the grant was for 63 percent of a patrolman's salary. Anyone who can add can come up with the figures."

Knight said Friday, "I know city employees get fringe benefits. I know the city pays insurance. I know the city pays (Social Security). I assumed the aldermen know that, too."

Seventh Ward Alderman Sandy Crites, a member of the Police Committee, said the discrepancy in figures was simply an innocent misunderstanding.

"It was definitely not the intention of anyone on the Police Committee to mislead," Crites said.

members are deliberately misleading the council, they should be censured," said Knight.

"Maybe our mistake was not taking action a couple of years ago when a member of the council admitted to deliberately misleading the council during a floor debate."

It is a fact that Chief Knight's son appeared to be the person at the top of the hiring list I'm sure is going to raise a lot of questions (fairly or unfairly) in many people's minds," Brown said.

"I think we owe it to the chief, the police department and the taxpayers to get to the bottom of the allegations immediately."

And if our fellow council members are deliberately misleading the council, they should be censured," said Knight.

"I think we owe it to the chief, the police department and the taxpayers to get to the bottom of the allegations immediately."

And if our fellow council members are deliberately misleading the council, they should be censured," said Knight.

1st Presbyterian minister is installed

Although Dr. Lewis E. Trotter began his ministry at First Presbyterian Church in Granite City on July 24, his official installation did not take place until Sept. 29.

He and his wife, Connie, and daughters Christy and Cathy, are residing at the First Presbyterian Manse at 30 Oaklawn Drive.

The couple's son, Lee Trotter, and his wife, Sandra, reside in Florida, where Lee is attending Marquette Community College.

Trotter received his master of science degree from Memphis State University in 1963. He then attended Columbia Theological Seminary and received his master of divinity in 1966.

The same year he became pastor of Carrollton Presbyterian Church in Carrollton, Miss. Since that time he has served at Covenant Presbyterian Church, Lakeland, Fla., and for the past 15 years at Northminster Presbyterian of Sarasota, Fla.

The minister and his family have already become involved in many activities in both church and community. This follows Trotter's belief that "our faith must go beyond the church building and into the community in which we reside."

An installation service was conducted by members of the Presbytery of Giddings-Lovejoy in the Sanctuary of First Presbyterian Church, 2160 Delmar Ave., at 4 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 19. At that time, Trotter was officially installed as pastor of the church.

The welcome and convening of the service was led by Elders Roger Bucknell, First Presbyterian Church, Belleville, and William Burck, clerk of Session of First Presbyterian Church, Granite City.

Following prayer by the Rev. Vicki Harden-Evans of Nameoki Presbyterian, and scripture readings by Elders Beverly Scroggins, Nameoki Presbyterian, and Mary Ellen McIlvoy, First Presbyterian, Granite City, the sermon of the day was delivered by the Rev. David Marshall, pastor at First Presbyterian, Belleville. His topic was "Called Together for Christ."

The official Act of Installation began with a Litany led by Rev. Bucknell with participation by the congregation. Elder Ronald Coleman, chairman of the Search Committee and speaking for the people of the church, then presented Dr. Trotter to be installed as pastor.

The intercession followed in which Dr. Trotter was given the opportunity to respond to questions dealing with the work of the church, his acceptance of the scriptures, the tenets of faith, church policy and his willingness to further the peace, unity and purity of the church.

After his responses, the members of the congregation were

2B—Granite City Sunday Home Journal—October 27, 1991

Warrior football players and cheerleaders greet the audience at the Homecoming parade on Monday night.

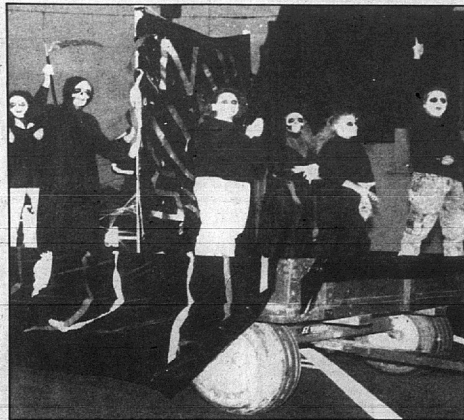

Karen Sykes, one of the Warrior volleyball team's seniors, slams home a spike during the final regular-season home match Wednesday against Cahokia.

Burnett, Carolyn and George Sykes, and Elmer Wortham. Not present were Steve Brown and Jan Wortham.

The GCHS National Honor Society float put on a ghoulish display in the Homecoming parade.

The GCHS flag squad entertains.

Coming up this week: The Warrior football teams hosts Belleville East in the regular-season finale on Friday at 7:30. The volleyball regional starts Tuesday at Memorial Gymnasium as Granite City meets Highland in a semifinal match. The finals are Thursday. The soccer playoffs also continue.
